

Aligning Perspectives, Advancing Solutions

How roundtables turn conversations into meaningful impact

Roundtables can deliver clarity and consensus—yet few get them right.

Three common mistakes often hold back meaningful conversations and lasting change.

Lots of Talk, No Decisions

Meetings are unstructured, priorities wander, and no guardrails exist to guide the conversation.

Illegitimate Voices Stall Buy-in Decision-makers and key stakeholders are absent, misrepresented, or drowned out.

No Ownership, No Action

Discussions end with vague next steps, no owners or timelines, and no cadence.

High Lantern Group Develops Purpose-Built Roundtables That Drive Action

Getting the Right Voices in the Room

We curate diverse stakeholders to shape the narrative and facilitate dialogue that moves beyond the discussion to actionable decisions.

Structure That Drives Decisions

We craft outcome-first meetings that prioritize decision points and provide neutral facilitation to balance perspectives and sustain momentum.

From Insight to Action

We shape the pre-reads, prompts, and frameworks that raise the level of the conversation, providing concise readouts with recommended next steps.

Our Proven Playbook: How to Build Successful Roundtables

We used a phased approach to build roundtables that clarify goals, prepare participants, facilitate high-impact dialogue, and deliver post-event strategies that turn conversation into measurable progress.

PHASE I	PHASE II	PHASE III	PHASE IV
Discovery and Design	Alignment & Preparation	Convene & Lead	Synthesize & Mobilize
Clarify objectives tied to the current topic/issue while identifying desired outcomes	Secure participants	Facilitate discussion	Deliver executive summary that includes actionable recommendations, ownership roles, and a follow-up plan to sustain momentum
Conduct stakeholder and/or landscape assessment	Develop pre-read materials and briefings	Capture themes, tensions, and agreements
Design session architecture and prompts

Designed to Fit the Moment
